

DOMINICK E. NIGRO, JR.

Dominick Nigro holds the position of Information Systems Officer in the Office of Examination and Insurance, Division of Supervision, at the National Credit Union Administration. He is responsible to develop, implement, and monitor Agency policies and procedures pertaining to credit union information systems technology, serves as an Agency representative on FFIEC information system committees, develops and conducts information system technology training for Agency examiners, assists in the evaluation of the Agency's credit union IS&T examination and supervision program, performs information system and technology examinations of complex credit unions and credit union IT vendors, represents the agency on IS&T speaking engagements, and prepares articles for agency publication on areas related to information technology systems. Dominick began his career with NCUA in 1987 as an examiner. He previously held the positions of Principal Examiner and Information Systems and Technology Subject Matter Examiner. He completed his undergraduate studies at Slippery Rock University.