Matz Sets New Round of Town Hall Sessions

November 30, 2009 Alexandria, Va. – National Credit Union Administration Chairman Debbie Matz today announced details of the next round of NCUA Town Hall meetings. The sessions, similar to those held this fall, as part of an Agency effort to receive stakeholder input about the corporate rulemaking process and other important issues, will be held in Dallas, Texas, Friday, January 22nd and Orlando, Florida, Thursday, February 4th. These sessions will begin at 9:00 a.m. and end at noon. A webinar will follow in February.

Participants can register online at click here.

"The first round of Town Halls provided invaluable insight and dialogue as we formulated the proposed corporate regulation. These next meetings will build on that foundation," stated Chairman Matz. "The proposed corporate rule, approved at our November 19th board meeting, has a 90-day comment period. During this time we are hoping to hear from all interested stakeholders in written form or in these Town Hall meetings. I encourage all interested parties to add their voices to this process."

NCUA is the independent federal agency that regulates, charters and supervises federal credit unions. With the backing of the full faith and credit of the U.S. government, NCUA operates and manages the National Credit Union Share Insurance Fund, insuring the deposits of nearly 90 million account holders in all federal credit unions and the overwhelming majority of state-chartered credit unions.
