NCUA Issues Prohibition Order

ALEXANDRIA, Va. (Nov. 1, 2012) – The National Credit Union Administration (NCUA) has issued an order prohibiting the following individual from participating in the affairs of any federally insured financial institution:

- Jessica L. St. Amand, a former employee of Somerville Municipal Federal Credit Union in Somerville, Mass., was convicted of four counts of identity fraud. St. Amand was sentenced to probation.

NCUA enforcement orders are available online at <http://go.usa.gov/yiJ> and for inspection at NCUA's Office of General Counsel between 9 a.m. and 4 p.m. Monday through Friday. Copies are available by mail from NCUA, 1775 Duke St., Alexandria, VA 22314-3428.

Violation of a prohibition order is a felony offense punishable by imprisonment and a fine of up to $1 million.

NCUA is the independent federal agency created by the U.S. Congress to regulate, charter and supervise federal credit unions. With the backing of the full faith and credit of the U.S. Government, NCUA operates and manages the National Credit Union Share Insurance Fund, insuring the deposits of more than 93 million account holders in all federal credit unions and the overwhelming majority of state-chartered credit unions.
