Dear Secretary of the Board Poliquin,

The NCUA is considering a proposal to allow credit unions to serve more members. This is great for the financial wellness of our communities. More individuals who are currently underserved by available financial services will qualify for membership with a credit union.

Credit unions are MEMBER owned cooperative not-for-profit institutions committed to a pledge of, "Not for profit, not for charity, but for service." The movement's core value is "people helping people."

Our citizens are in need of good jobs, good health, and good education. Credit unions help Americans to save their money and provide low-cost financial services so those hard working citizens keep more money in their own pockets. Isn't that your desire, too?

The "big banks" don't want this to happen because they are focused on their bottom line. As large corporations, they must return money to their stockholders. Keep big banks doing what they do best--serving equally large commercial clients. Credit unions are the right choice for the everyday American.

Thank you for providing this choice for consumers!

Sincerely,

Angela Peacor
