Dear Secretary of the Board Poliquin,

Dear Chairman Matz,

The credit union member business lending cap represents a lot of what is wrong with Washington (specifically the bank lobby). Why on earth would Congress limit member-owned credit union's ability to lend to small business?

We need more of the little guy helping the little guy! Well, thankfully, your proposal would do that. By getting regulation out of the way, credit unions will be able to more fully serve small businesses like mine. This will help my community, my own small business and it will help make my credit union stronger. Please complete your work on this proposal as soon as possible so credit unions can continue to lend.

Sincerely,

Robert E. Harlan
