Comment: It is wonderful that the NCUA is being proactive in its consideration of increasing the asset threshold used to define "small entity" from $50 million to $100 million. The NCUA board should be commended for taking this initiative to raise the RFA threshold within two years after raising the threshold from $10 million to $50 million. Such quick action substantiates that the NCUA board is truly committed to reducing the regulatory relief of small credit unions.
