Technical Amendments

AGENCY: National Credit Union Administration (NCUA).

ACTION: Final rule.

SUMMARY: The NCUA Board (Board) is making a number of technical amendments to NCUA's regulations based on issues identified by staff and through NCUA's rolling, three-year regulatory review process. In addition, the Board is making a number of nomenclature changes to NCUA's regulations to reflect changes to NCUA's office structure, including the transfer of duties and the creation of the new Office of National Examinations and Supervision (ONES). Finally, under title X of the Dodd-Frank Wall Street Reform and Consumer Protection Act¹ (Dodd-Frank Act), rulemaking authority for a number of consumer financial protection laws were transferred from various federal regulatory agencies, including NCUA, to the Consumer Financial Protection Bureau (CFPB). As a result, the Board is now updating certain cross citations within its regulations and rescinding NCUA's rules governing the "Privacy of Consumer Financial Information" under the Gramm-Leach-Bliley Act² and the "Registration of Residential Mortgage Loan Originators" under the Secure and Fair Enforcement for Mortgage Licensing Act of 2008,³ which were transferred to the CFPB.

I. Background and Purpose of the Final Rule

Why is the NCUA Board issuing this rule?

In 2012, NCUA's rolling, three-year review of its regulations identified, among other things, minor errors, duplicative definitions, and outdated regulatory provisions that could be eliminated to help update, clarify and simplify the regulations. NCUA reviews one-third of its regulations each year to "update, clarify and simplify existing regulations and eliminate redundant and unnecessary provisions."⁴ In addition, NCUA staff has identified helpful citation corrections and other minor technical amendments that could be made in other parts of NCUA's regulations. As explained in more detail in the Regulatory Amendments section below, the following technical amendments can be made without making substantive changes to the regulations:

- Reconcile duplicative definitions in part 700 with definitions in other parts of NCUA's regulations;
- Update a cross citation in § 702.104(c);
- Update a cross citation in § 709.1(c);
- Update numerous cross citations in NCUA's regulations to account for the transfer of rulemaking authority by the Dodd-Frank Act for several statutes from the Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve Board (FRB) to the CFPB.
- Update §§ 792.50 and 792.51 to identify NCUA's Office of the Executive Director as the office responsible for NCUA's security procedures for classified information; and
- Update the wording in § 792.51(d) to remove the citation to Executive Order 12356, which has been revoked,

⁴ NCUA Interpretive Ruling and Policy Statement (IRPS) 87-2, as amended by IRPS 03-2, and IRPS 13-1, "Developing and Reviewing Government Regulations."

and instead cite more generally to appropriate Executive Orders relating to the classification of national security information.

In July 2012, the Board approved a restructuring of NCUA's central office. This restructuring consisted of transferring certain functions and renaming the Office of Corporate Credit Unions (OCCU), which is now referred to as ONES. ONES has taken over the responsibilities of OCCU for corporate credit unions and, beginning January 1, 2014, will oversee examinations and supervision issues related to consumer credit unions with assets greater than $10 billion. In addition to the amendments described above, the Board is also amending various parts of NCUA's regulations to conform them to match the current central and field office structure.

In 2010, President Obama signed into law the Dodd-Frank Act. The Dodd-Frank Act substantially changed the federal legal framework with respect to consumer financial protection regulation. Among the many changes, title X of the Dodd-Frank Act transferred to the CFPB NCUA's rulemaking authority under the Gramm-Leach-Bliley Act and the Secure and Fair Enforcement for Mortgage Licensing Act of 2008.⁵ As a result, NCUA is rescinding the following two rules, which have been republished as interim final rules by the CFPB:

- Privacy of Consumer Financial Information, 12 CFR part 716 (republished by the CFPB at 12 CFR part 1016);⁶ and
- Registration of Residential Mortgage Loan Originators, 12 CFR part 761 (republished by the CFPB at 12 CFR part 1007).⁷

To assist federally insured credit unions, the rescinded parts of NCUA's regulations will retain their original heading and be amended to include a cross citation to the CFPB's republished version of the regulation.

II. Regulatory Amendments

1. Parts 700, 704, 707, 712, 725, 750, 791, and 792—Amendments To Clarify Definitions

Alternative definitions. This final rule amends § 700.1 to clarify that the definitions in § 700.2 apply to the terms used in chapter VII, “unless the context indicates otherwise.” The change is intended to clarify that in situations where a term is defined in § 700.2 and an alternative definition is also provided in a specific section or part, the alternative definition in the section or part controls over the general definition provided in § 700.2 or elsewhere in part 700. For example, § 700.2 generally defines the term “Act” as the Federal Credit Union Act. Part 760 of NCUA’s regulations governing “loans in areas having special flood hazards,” however, specifically defines the term “Act” for purposes of only that particular part as “the National Flood Insurance Act.” Reading the definition of Act provided in part 760 in context, it is clear that for purposes of that part, “Act” means the National Flood Insurance Act even though part 700 provides a different definition for the term for purposes of chapter VII.

⁶ See 76 FR 79025 (Dec. 21, 2011).

⁷ See 76 FR 78483 (Dec. 19, 2011).

Definition of “state.” This final rule amends § 700.2 to remove the “Panama Canal Zone” from the definition of “state,” as the Panama Canal Zone is no longer a territory or possession of the United States. In addition, the rule removes the duplicative, redundant definitions of the term “state” in §§ 704.2 and 707.2(v).

Duplicative definition of “Board.” Section 700.2 defines the term “Board” for purposes of 12 CFR chapter VII as “the Board of the National Credit Union Administration.” This final rule amends §§ 707.2(e), 725.2(n), and 791.10(b) to remove substantially similar duplicative definitions of the term “Board” provided in those sections.

Duplicative definition of “paid-in and unimpaired capital and surplus.” Section 700.2 defines the term “paid-in and unimpaired capital and surplus” for purposes of 12 CFR chapter VII. This final rule amends § 712.2(d)(1) to remove a substantially similar duplicative definition of that term.

Duplicative definition of the term “Act.” Section 700.2 defines the term “Act” for purposes of 12 CFR chapter VII. This final rule amends § 750.1(a) to remove a substantially similar duplicative definition of the term Act.

2. Parts 700, 701, 704, 708a, 708b, 723, 741, 750, and 790—Adjustments to NCUA’s Central and Field Office Structure

As discussed above, the Board is amending various parts of NCUA’s regulations to conform them to match the current central and field office structure. Many of the changes involve nomenclature changes, which simply retitle the “Office of Corporate Credit Unions” as the “Office of National Examinations and Supervision.” However, as discussed in more detail below, this final rule also makes other changes related to the transfers of responsibility.

Amended definition of “Regional Office” and “Regional Director.” This final rule amends the definition of “Regional Office” in § 700.2 to clarify that for credit unions with $10 billion or more in assets, “Regional Office” means the “Office of National Examinations and Supervision.” This final rule also removes the description of the Office of Corporate Credit Unions from § 790.2(b)(14) and amends and restructures § 790.2(c) to include a description of the “Office of National Examinations and Supervision.”

Similarly, this final rule amends the definitions of “Regional Director” in §§ 700.2, 702.2(a), 708a.101, and 708a.301 for credit unions with $10 billion or more in assets, so that “Regional Director” means the “Director of the Office of National Examinations and Supervision.”

Amendments to “Security Procedures for Classified Information.” This final rule updates subpart D under part 792 governing “security procedures for classified information” in response to a central office restructuring approved by the Board in November 2009 as part of the fiscal year 2010 and 2011 operating and capital budgets. The restructuring transferred the responsibilities for handling classified information to NCUA’s Executive Director. Accordingly, this final rule primarily amends §§ 792.50 and 792.51 by updating the description of NCUA’s internal procedures and replacing the references to the “Chief Financial Officer” and “Chief Financial Officer’s” designee with references to the “Executive Director” and the “Executive Director’s” designee.

In addition, this final rule amends § 792.51(d) to revise an outdated reference to Executive Order 12356, which has been revoked.⁸ As amended, § 792.51(d) provides in relevant part: “The Executive Director shall require each such employee to review applicable Executive Orders on the classification of National Security Information.”

3. Part 716—Privacy of Consumer Financial Information

As discussed above, in response to changes made by the Dodd-Frank Act, this final rule rescinds 12 CFR part 716, which has been republished by the CFPB at 12 CFR part 1016.⁹ To assist credit unions in locating part 1016, rescinded part 716 will retain its original heading and include a cross cite to the CFPB’s rules governing the privacy of consumer financial information (Regulation P).

4. Part 745—Rescission of Unlimited Insurance for Noninterest-Bearing Transaction Accounts

Section 343 of the Dodd-Frank Act provided that, on a temporary basis, NCUA would fully insure the net amount that any member or depositor at an insured credit union maintained in a noninterest-bearing transaction account. NCUA amended part 745 of its regulations to implement these temporary statutory changes through a final rule that became effective on June 24, 2011.¹⁰ Consistent with the sunset provisions in Dodd-Frank Act section 343(b)(3) and § 745.14 of NCUA’s regulations, NCUA is rescinding its regulations implementing the temporary expanded insurance coverage granted under Dodd-Frank Act section 343(b)(1). In particular, the rule removes the definition of “noninterest-bearing transaction account” in § 745.1(f), and removes § 745.14 governing noninterest-bearing transaction accounts. The Board notes, however, that these accounts continue to be insured under other provisions of part 745.

5. Part 761—Registration of Residential Mortgage Loan Originators

As discussed above, in response to changes made by the Dodd-Frank Act, this final rule rescinds 12 CFR part 761, which has been republished by the CFPB at 12 CFR part 1007.¹¹ To assist credit unions in locating part 1007, rescinded part 761 will retain its original heading and include a cross cite to the CFPB’s rules governing the federal registration of residential mortgage loan originators (Regulation G).

6. Parts 701, 702, 709, 741, and 748—Updates to Cross Citations

Cross cites to CFPB regulations. The rule updates several cross citations to rescinded parts 716 and 761.

Cross cite to definitions section of 12 CFR part 703. This final rule also amends § 702.104(c) by removing the cross citation to the definition of investments at 12 CFR 703.150, the former definitions section to part 703, ⁸ EO 12356 (April 2, 1982) was revoked by EO 12958 (April 17, 1995), which was then revoked by the current Executive Order “Classified National Security Information,” EO 13526 (Dec. 29, 2009).

and replaces it with a cross cite to the current definition of investments at 12 CFR 703.2.¹²

Cross cite to definitions section of 12 CFR part 700. This final rule amends § 709(c) by updating the cross citation to the definition of the term insolvent at § 700.1(c), which was moved by a final rule issued in 2001¹³ to its current location at 12 CFR 700.2.

III. Regulatory Procedures

Regulatory Flexibility Act

The Regulatory Flexibility Act requires NCUA to prepare an analysis to describe any significant economic impact a rule may have on a substantial number of small entities (primarily those under $50 million in assets). NCUA certifies that these technical amendments will not have a significant economic impact on a substantial number of small credit unions.

Paperwork Reduction Act

The Paperwork Reduction Act of 1995 (PRA) applies to rulemakings in which an agency by rule creates a new paperwork burden on regulated entities or modifies an existing burden.¹⁴ For purposes of the PRA, a paperwork burden may take the form of either a reporting or a recordkeeping requirement, both referred to as information collections. NCUA has determined that the technical amendments in this final rule do not increase the paperwork requirements under PRA or regulations of the Office of Management and Budget.

Executive Order 13132

Executive Order 13132 encourages independent regulatory agencies to consider the impact of their actions on state and local interests. NCUA, an independent regulatory agency as defined in 44 U.S.C. 3502(5), voluntarily complies with the executive order to adhere to fundamental federalism principles. This final rule will not have a substantial direct effect on the states, on the relationship between the national government and the states, or on the distribution of power and responsibilities among the various levels of government. NCUA has determined that this final rule does not constitute a policy that has federalism implications for purposes of the executive order.

Assessment of Federal Regulations and Policies on Families

NCUA has determined that this final rule will not affect family well-being within the meaning of Section 654 of the Treasury and General Government Appropriations Act, 1999.¹⁵

Small Business Regulatory Enforcement Fairness Act

The Small Business Regulatory Enforcement Fairness Act of 1996¹⁶ (SBREFA) provides generally for congressional review of agency rules. A reporting requirement is triggered in instances where NCUA issues a final rule as defined by Section 551 of the Administrative Procedure Act (APA).¹⁷ NCUA has submitted this rule to the Office of Management and Budget for it to determine if the final rule is a “major rule” for purposes of SBREFA. NCUA does not believe the rule is major.

Final Rule

Generally, the APA requires a federal agency to provide the public with notice and the opportunity to comment on agency rulemakings. The amendments in this rule are non-substantive and technical topics, or involve only matters relating to management and personnel and are exempt from APA notice and comment requirements.¹⁸ They reflect changes to NCUA’s organizational structure, remove duplicative language, make minor changes updating cross citations, and make minor changes which are statutorily required by the Dodd-Frank Act. The APA permits an agency to forego the notice and comment period under certain circumstances, such as when a rulemaking is technical and non-substantive. NCUA finds that, in this instance, notice and public comment are unnecessary under section 553(b)(3)(B) of the APA.¹⁹ NCUA also finds good cause to dispense with the 30-day delayed effective date requirement under section 553(d)(3) of the APA.²⁰ The rule, therefore, will be effective immediately upon publication.

12 CFR Part 1026

[Docket No. CFPB-2013-0013]

RIN 3170-AA37

Loan Originator Compensation Requirements Under the Truth in Lending Act (Regulation Z); Prohibition on Financing Credit Insurance Premiums; Delay of Effective Date

AGENCY: Bureau of Consumer Financial Protection.

ACTION: Final rule; Delay of Effective Date.

SUMMARY: The Bureau of Consumer Financial Protection (Bureau) is issuing a final rule delaying the June 1, 2013, effective date of a prohibition on creditors financing credit insurance premiums in connection with certain consumer credit transactions secured by a dwelling. The prohibition was adopted in the Loan Originator Compensation Requirements under the Truth in Lending Act (Regulation Z) Final Rule, issued on January 20, 2013, and published in the Federal Register on February 15, 2013. The Bureau is delaying the effective date until January 10, 2014, to permit the Bureau to clarify, before the provision takes effect, its applicability to transactions other than those in which a lump-sum premium is added to the loan amount at closing. The new effective date will be January 10, 2014, but the Bureau will solicit comment on the appropriate effective date at the same time that it seeks comment on clarifications. (The Bureau is not contemplating extending the effective date beyond January 10, 2014.)

DATES: The final rule published February 15, 2013, at 78 FR 11280, is effective January 10, 2014, with the exception of the amendments to 12 CFR 1026.36(h) and (i), which are effective June 1, 2013. This rule delays the effective date of the amendment to 12 CFR 1026.36(i) until January 10, 2014.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION:

I. Background

In January 2013, the Bureau issued several final rules concerning mortgage markets in the United States, pursuant to the Dodd-Frank Wall Street Reform and Consumer Protection Act (Dodd-Frank Act).¹ One of these final rules was the Loan Originator Compensation Requirements Under the Truth in Lending Act (Regulation Z) (Final Rule).² The Final Rule implemented Dodd-Frank Act amendments to the Truth in Lending Act (TILA) addressing loan originator compensation; qualifications of, and registration or licensing of loan originators; compliance procedures for depository institutions; mandatory arbitration; and the financing of single-premium credit insurance. With regard to the financing of single-premium credit insurance, the Final Rule included a provision implementing the Dodd-Frank Act section 1414 amendment that added new TILA section 129C(d), 15 U.S.C. 1639c(d). That provision prohibits creditors from financing premiums or fees for certain credit insurance products in connection with certain consumer credit transactions secured by a dwelling. The Bureau implemented this provision by adopting § 1026.36(i).

A. Title XIV Rulemaking Effective Dates

In enacting the Dodd-Frank Act, Congress significantly amended the statutory requirements governing a number of mortgage practices, including loan originator compensation. Under the statute, most of these new requirements would have taken effect automatically on January 21, 2013, if the Bureau had not issued implementing regulations by that date.³ To avoid uncertainty and potential disruption in the national mortgage market at a time of economic vulnerability, the Bureau issued several final rules (Title XIV Rulemakings) in January 2013, including the Final Rule issued on January 20, 2013, to implement these new statutory provisions and provide for an orderly transition. To allow the mortgage industry sufficient time to comply with the new rules, the Bureau established January 10, 2014—one year after
